

Oasis Music Night presents
Step into Light
-Finding Comfort Together in Music-

A free virtual concert on Saturday, December 5, 2020 at 7 p.m.

We would like to invite you to Step into Light: Finding Comfort Together in Music, our very first virtual Oasis Music Night on Saturday, December 5, 2020 at 7 p.m.

Due to the COVID-19 Pandemic, we could not present our free on-going music series, Oasis Music Night. Through this free virtual concert, let us share hope and comfort as we step into the light away from the darkness of our times.

The program includes some of the classical music's best comfort food for the soul: Compositions by Bach, Debussy, Haydn, Schubert, et al., performed by local musicians who graduated from the New England Conservatory of Music, the Longy School of Music, the Boston University, and Swarthmore College. They are also our neighbors who perform and teach in the Greater Boston area. Please join us for an evening of beautiful and comforting classical music.

Performers

Marc Pasciucco, cello solo
Nicholas Southwick, flute
Cholong Park, piano
Kina Park, violin
Yoon Won Chung, piano
Minjung Chun, viola
Hyun-ji Kwon, cello

This concert was pre-recorded on November 7th, 2020, following the State of Massachusetts COVID-19 guidelines at the main sanctuary of The Korean Church of Boston in Brookline, Mass.

*Oasis Music Night is an ongoing free concert series presented by the Korean Church of Boston located at 32 Harvard Street in Brookline, Mass.

Free Registration: Click Here

When: Saturday, December 5, 2020 at 7 p.m.

Where: Watch by clicking this: Step Into Light

For more information please visit www.ecckcb.org,
Facebook: <https://www.Facebook.com/ECCEvents>
Instagram: <https://www.Instagram.com/ecckcb>

617-739-2663/ecckcb@gmail.com.

